

2018 Leadership Camp Workshop Descriptions

“Common Goals Take Flight”

- The main portion of this workshop will be done individually filling out a questionnaire. After the students are able to finish the questionnaire they will then be able to recap with the whole group as to why they picked one thing versus the other. This will give every troupe a better understanding of one's motives and goals.

Keeping the Bond Alive (aka “Statues”)

This workshop is meant to explore common issues among troupes and how these issues arise, as well as how to solve such issues and ways to avoid them altogether.

Club Activities

Having fun and inclusive club activities is an essential aspect of how to have a successful club! In this workshop we will discuss and analyze fun club activities, as well as what makes an activity successful or not.

Troupe Trust

Students will participate in a group activity and discussion about trust. They will learn skills about how to broaden trust within their troupe and what they can bring back after camp.

Trust activities will require physical activity and hands on supervision.

Motivation and Recruitment

Students will participate in a discussion communicating previous and future methods of motivation and recruitment. Students will then be split into small groups to prepare a skit in which they put these methods into action. In this, they are not only inclusive leaders, but also learn how to grow their theatre department!

Sell your Show

Students will be able to learn how to advertise their show within their school. We will also cover how to create a successful Poster/ playbill for your show. Students will also be able to contribute and take ideas from other students.

Fundraising

This is a super fun awesome way to get some great Lit ideas on how to fundraise. Students will discuss certain fundraising tactics to help other troops to gain some SUPER RAD ideas. This workshop is super cool and awesome please come it will be THE BEST.

Understanding Each Other

Students will draw a house that will metaphorically define their openness, fears, views of others, etc. After sharing with their troupe and learning more about each other, the troupe as a whole will create a house of their own. This will help define the team's goals and the way they accomplish them. The goal is to strengthen personal and troupe relationships.

Masks of Leadership

We will give everyone a paper mask and a writing thingy. We will have everyone write what they want people to see and what they try to show as a first impression
